

THE BERT SHOW
REAL. FUNNY.

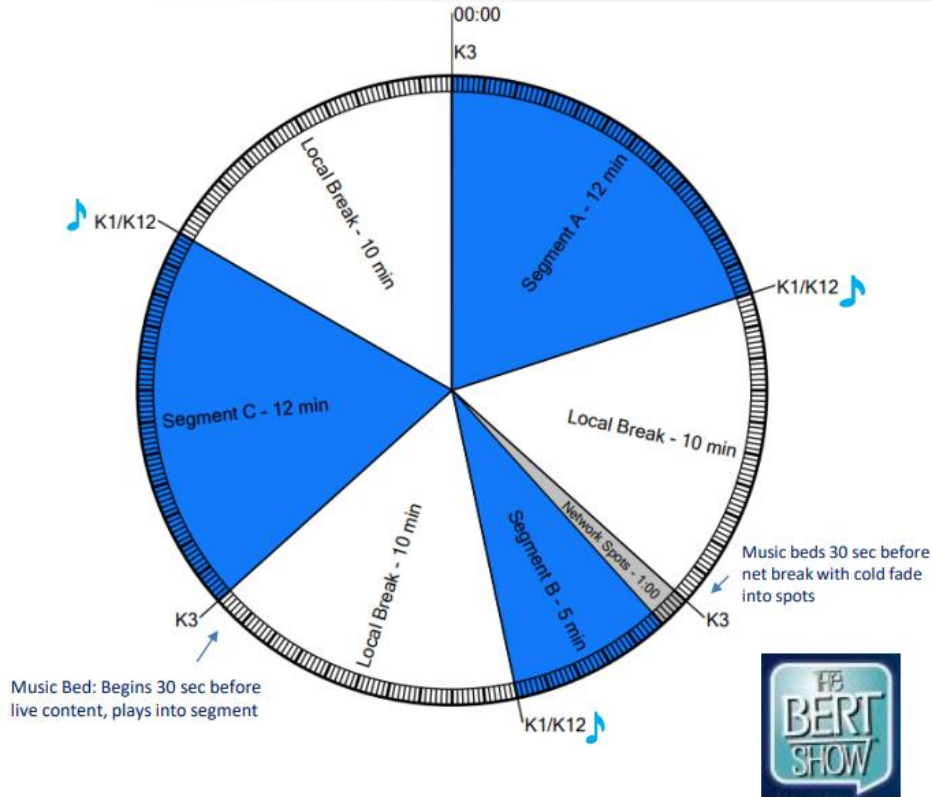

WEEKDAY MORNINGS

The Bert Show has been offering a blend of lifestyle advice, national entertainment news, celebrity interviews, humor and on-air community to listeners for over 17 years. The program's success lies in its lack of formula and the openness of the cast members to share the most intimate and vulnerable details of their lives. An estimated one million people tune in each week from 6 a.m. to 10 a.m. EST.

Wegener Format Clock

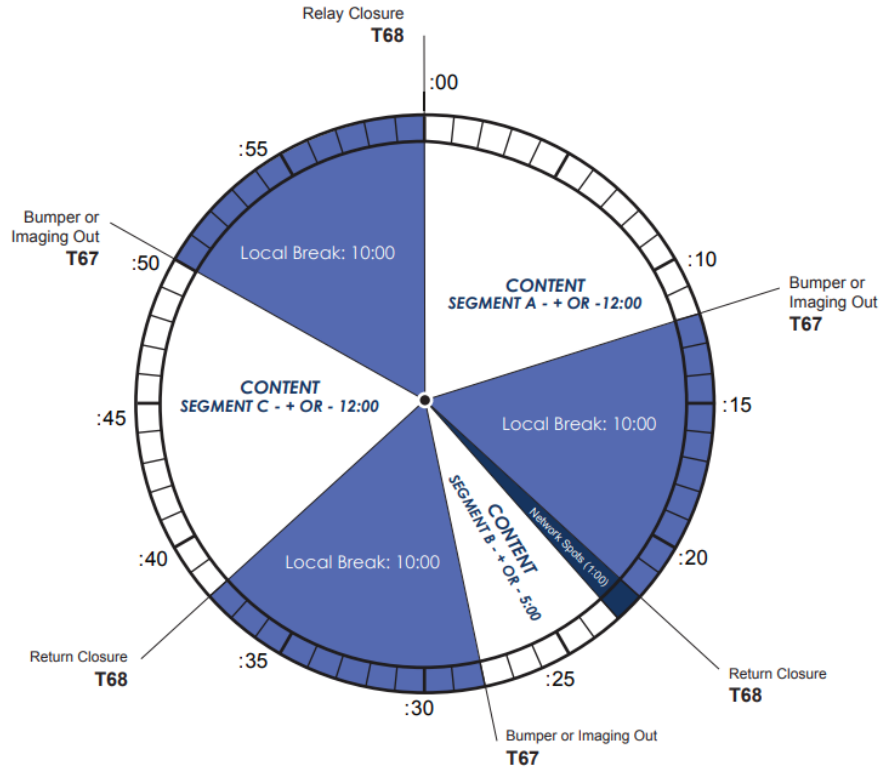

Feed time: Monday-Friday, 5-10am ET

Program Function	Closures
Local Stopset Start	K1/K12
Return from local	K3
TOH	00:00 time sync closure = Bumper/imaging out of segment

Bert Show Content 30:00
Local Avail/Content 30:00
Network Min 1:00
Local Avails will NOT be filled

Wegener Format Clock

5-10am: Eastern | 4-9am: Central

Program Function	Closures
Start Local Avail	T67
Return from Local Avail	T68
Local Break # 3 provides availability for Legal ID NOTE: All Breaks Float

Bert Show Content: 30:00
Local Avail/Content: 30:00

On-Air Personalities

Biography

Let's start with 100% honesty. If you're new to our fam than you have to know a few things. Every person on this show suffers from TMI syndrome. There's probably about 10% of our personal lives that's totally off limits. It's kind of reality radio but our number one goal is to make sure you laugh a few times before you have to enter the real world.

I'm proud that the show has heart, also. I have a nonprofit called Bert's Big Adventure. We take children that have chronic and terminal illnesses down to Disney World for an all expenses paid, five-day trip and we bring everybody in their family! Then we get together a few times each year for reunions to make sure we're connected. We've built a network of 15 years of special needs families!

When I'm not working on the show, I'm probably doing one of three things...

1. Spending time with my boys: I have two amazing boys, Hayden and Hollis, who make me proud everyday. Hollis is the athlete. Hayden loves the arts. My job every day is to make sure they feel loved and safe and make sure are loving, capable gentlemen.
2. Traveling: I want to see the world. I've hiked in Venezuela, surfed in Costa Rica, almost drowned in Hawaii, driven beach buggies in Brazil, danced at midnight on a rooftop in Colombia, got caught in a sea storm off Capri, crashed a scooter in Greece, sailed around the Caribbean for Christmas...I actually am the most interesting man in the world, now that I think of it. Not that lame Dos Equis guy.
3. Working out: I love the gym. I love nutrition and body science. Staying fit has always been a big part of my life.

Thanks for giving the Bert Show a shot at your loyalty. We're real. We're funny. And I think it's very different than anything you might have heard on morning radio

Biography

I've been doing this radio thing since 2002. I love that my "job" is I get to laugh and joke around with my friends every day on the air. While we definitely have fun, we don't shy away from tackling tough topics. Most importantly, it's all about connecting with you, our listeners, who we consider family.

I'm a graduate of the University of Kentucky, which of course makes me a Wildcat through and through. Born and raised in Lexington, Kentucky, I'm southern in my roots and appreciate good hospitality and a perfect glass of sweet tea.

Coming from a military family, (my brother is a Marine and my father a Vietnam Veteran), I will always support the men and women of our Armed Forces. I'm also a big supporter of rescue shelters thanks to my two dogs, Parker Jones and Leeroy Brown

It's nice to escape to the entertainment world on a daily basis when I deliver the Entertainment Buzz. I enjoy getting caught up in the fashion and the glamour of the stars, while not taking it too seriously. And my happy place, besides being next to my husband and dogs of course, is in my bed binge watching my favorite shows on Netflix.

I'm a tough enough chick to where I can certainly hang with the boys and I'm extremely competitive. I attribute that to my high school basketball coach. I still have a sensitive side, and being a part of Bert's Big Adventure is what gives me purpose. The Bert Show pays the bills, Bert's Big Adventure pays the soul

Biography

Maurice "Moe" Mitch is a successful comedian, podcast host, and actor. Born and raised in Brooklyn, New York, Moe grew up very close with his parents, three younger sisters and family dog, Caesar. At a young age, he fell in love with the art of writing by expressing himself through songs and poetry. He attended college in Norfolk, Virginia, where he earned a bachelor's degree in Business Management.

After graduating, Moe moved to New York City to work in the music industry. During his time in New York, he was a facilities coordinator in the mail room for iHeart Media. Through a colleague he found other connections that lead him on his way into comedy. He started off by doing voice overs and writing commercials for actor and comedian, D.L. Hughley. He also held a few different roles with various comedic YouTube web series such as "Meet The Browns" and "Hip Hop Horror," as well as starring in Best Buy commercials.

In 2016, he gathered the courage to take to the stage at "Grill OnThe Hill" in Harlem, New York, during a "New Mic" night. Once he got behind the mic, he knew he had found his calling; he has been performing in venues all over the country ever since. He spent the next couple years splitting his time between co-hosting a podcast called "Keep the Change" and launching his witty comedic astrology videos, "Moements - Why I Hate Your Sign."

When not in-studio, Moe loves to spend his time boxing, songwriting and exploring his new home. In the meantime, Moe is always writing new material, performing stand-up and pursuing acting ventures.

THANK YOU!

For more information on ACC and affiliating in your market, contact:

Neal Weiner, VP of Affiliate Sales Formats
country@westwoodone.com | 206.335.5259